

World Wide Village Incorporated

Ready for an adventure?

(June 4, 2010)

Since the January 12th earthquake in Haiti, World Wide Village, Inc. has worked diligently to implement a three-phase recovery plan. Phase 1: Emergency Relief--the distribution of food and water to areas cut off from supply chains. Phase 2: Healthcare and Recovery--the setup and staffing of a donated 50-bed mobile hospital in Leogane where medical personnel have treated more than 18,000 patients; the reopening of schools; and the importing of containers holding more than 2 million meals, almost 100,000 bottles of water, tarps/tents, and clothing. Assessments have been completed over the past three months, and we are now ready to implement Phase 3: Rebuilding. We are now seeking volunteers to travel with us on our World Wide Village teams. There are slots for more than 130 individuals of varying backgrounds on upcoming trips!

Our "Believing in Haiti" campaign is focused on the transformation and reconstruction of Haiti. Please consider joining one of the teams! You will experience first-hand the resiliency and joy of the Haitian people while simultaneously offering them an encouraging hand-up.

The trips feature three or four days of intense project activities, exciting worship services, daily prayer and devotion-and a little beachside relaxation. Many of our mission team veterans will tell you about an experience that was life changing--one that fostered a lasting relationship between the Haitian people, themselves, and WWV.

Sample team activities include:

- Building or repairing houses
- Church construction and maintenance
- Visiting children at orphanages and schools
- Assisting at medical clinics
- Sports with children
- Evangelism Worship with Christian prisoners
